PRESS RELEASE

FREE from DATAIR: Pension Reporter (5500) System with Year 2004 Forms

For Release Sunday October 24, 2004

October 24, 2004

Westmont, Ill. – DATAIR Employee Benefit Systems, Inc. has announced an extraordinary offer for its Pension Reporter government forms system. It is making the software, with 2004 5500, 2005 PBGC, SAR, 2004 1099-R, and 5300-series forms available free of charge.

Participants in the Free 2004 Forms promotion will receive the same software and expert support that other DATAIR clients receive through October 31, 2005 without any license or support fees, and without further obligation. The software may be installed on an unlimited number of workstations and used to report an unlimited number of plans during the promotion.

At the end of the trial period, participants will have an opportunity to license the software for future years' forms by agreeing to pay a monthly maintenance fee.

Gary Saake, Vice President/Systems of DATAIR, said "This is an outstanding opportunity for employee benefit professionals to use Pension Reporter without cost or obligation." Saake added "We're confident that after using the system for an entire year to report their plans, they will see that both the software and support are superior compared to their current solution".

Additional information and registration instructions are available at www.datair.com/register. The promotion is not open to current DATAIR Pension Reporter users, and is limited to the first 1,000 firms to register.

About Pension Reporter

The Pension Reporter system is licensed by DATAIR to pension and benefits professionals on a site-license basis, with license and support fees based on the number of plans administered.

The system is available in three modules:
➢ Annual Reporting: EFAST 5500-series, PBGC Premium-series, SAR, and 5500 electronic filing;
➢ 1099-R Series: 1099-R and related forms, 945/945-A, and 1099 electronic filing; and ➢ Qualification & Termination: 5300/5310-series and PBGC 500/600-series forms.

The system includes government instructions, detailed instant edit checks, year-to-year data transfer, data import capabilities, and conversions from other systems. Licensees are entitled to expert support on systems and forms issues at no additional cost. In the early 1980s, Pension Reporter was the first PC-based software introduced for producing 5500-series forms and schedules.

About DATAIR:

Based in Westmont, Illinois, DATAIR Employee Benefit Systems, Inc. has been a leading provider of software for benefits and pension professionals since 1967. Products offered include software for Defined Contribution, Defined Benefit, and Flexible Benefit plan documents, proposal, administration, discrimination testing, and government reporting.

Additional information available at www.datair.com or by calling (888) 328-2474.

# # #

Contact: Marketing Department
                DATAIR Employee Benefit Systems, Inc.
                735 N. Cass Av.
                Westmont, IL 60559-1100
                Voice: (888) 328-2474   FAX: (630) 325-2660